MEDICAL UNIT TO OFFER ORAL POLIO VACCINE TO COUNTIANS

The Adams County Medical Society has given approval to a plan for offering oral polio vaccine to the people of Adams County.

A committee, headed by Dr. Harrison F. Harbach and including Dr. James Allison and Dr. D. L. Radsma, will meet Sunday to advance plans for the project which will offer Types 1 and 2 of the polio vaccine produced by the Pfizer Pharmaceutical Company.

There will be a 25-cent charge to each person receiving the vaccine to cover the cost of the vaccine and any surplus remaining above costs will be turned over to the Warner Hospital, Dr. Harbach said.

6 WEEKS TO 45 YEARS

The shots are intended for Adams Countians between the ages of six weeks and 45 years, and the committee said it hopes at least 70 per cent of the countians within that age span will report for the vaccine.

The project is expected to get underway next month, possibly by Sunday, March 10. The second dose of the vaccine will be given six weeks later and a third will be arranged later on a schedule not yet set up.

Sundays were chosen for the distribution of the vaccine because, Dr. Harbach said, it was felt that more people would be free that day to go to the polio vaccine centers and take their (Continued On Page 3)

GREAT LAKES COOPERATIVE BRINGS SUIT

Great Lakes Cherry Producers Cooperative has brought assumption suits in Adams County court against the Pet Milk Co., of St. Louis, Mo., with a place of business in Biglerville; two agents of the Pet Milk Co., Daniel P. Minter, of Biglerville, and Lynn Smith, York Springs, and fruit-grower Elliott E. Schlosser, Arendtsville.

Great Lakes, according to its complaint in the two assumption actions filed in the prothonotary's office Thursday by Attorney Donald M. Swope of the law firm of Brown, Swope and MacPhail, is suing the company and men for alleged infringements on agreements made by Great Lakes with fruitgrowers.

The suit against Schlosser alleges that he entered into an agreement with Great Lakes as of April 11, 1962, for Great Lakes Cherry Producers Marketing Cooperative to serve as exclusive sales agent to market red tart cherries produced by or for Schlosser.

ASK JUDGMENTS

Great Lakes alleges that Schlosser violated the agreement last July by selling 23.45 tons of cherries to the C. H. Musselman Division of Pet Milk Co. Great Lakes asks $25 a ton as "liquidated damages" from Schlosser for the cherries he sold "contrary to the agreement," or $585.38 plus interest from August 1, 1962.

Call Governor For Contempt

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — An unprecedented criminal contempt of court hearing for the governor and lieutenant governor of Mississippi starts today before the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

State sources said neither Gov. Ross Barnett nor Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., both convicted of civil contempt last year, was expected to appear in court. Attorneys will plead their case.

The appeals court, which has never imposed penalties for the civil convictions, has ordered the state officials to show why they should not be held in criminal contempt for seeking to block admission of James H. Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi.

In briefs filed before the hearing, Mississippi asked that the charges be tossed out. The state argued that Barnett and Johnson acted as Mississippi officials in compliance with state laws — and not as individuals. The state also said the appeals court lacked jurisdiction and the charges were not properly prepared.

GROUP PROBES PLAN TO BUILD OUTDOOR POOL

"Gettysburg's greatest immediate recreational need is a swimming pool."

"If the people of the town want a swimming pool badly enough to let the borough councilmen know that the pool is their desire and that they will pay for it—then the town can have a pool within a year."

These are general conclusions reached Thursday night at a meeting on community needs in the YWCA by representatives of a number of local and county organizations under sponsorship of the YWCA Advisory Committee. Rev. Robert MacAskill presided at the session.

SECOND MEETING

The meeting was the second so far this year on discussion of community needs. At the conclusion of the meeting the group adopted a resolution presented by Richard Hartley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, asking borough council representative Robert McCoy and Rebecca Schwenk who attended the meeting, and representatives of the Recreation Board, Guile W. Lefever and Mrs. Donald Wickerham, to act as a committee to obtain estimates of the cost of a pool, cost of operation, the manner in which it could be financed within the present tax structure and other pertinent details. PAINTING OF JUDGE SHEELY GIVEN COUNTY

An oil portrait of Judge W. C. Sheely was presented Thursday evening to the county by the Adams County Bar Association at a special ladies' night banquet in the Hotel Gettysburg.

The portrait is the work of Ralph D. Dunkelberger, Reading artist, who painted a similar portrait of Judge Sheely for presentation last May to the Dickinson School of Law by the Alumni Association of the school.

The local presentation was made by Attorney E. V. Bulleit, president and senior member of the county association, and was accepted for the county commissioners by Atty. Donald G. Oyler, who said the county would "hang the painting in a prominent and appropriate place in the courthouse and will maintain it now and in the future." He added that the commissioners are hopeful that "this will set a precedent" and that portraits of other judges will be made available for placement in the courthouse.

HIGHEST TRIBUTE

Paying the highest tribute in the history of the county judicial system, Atty. S. M. Raffensperger presented a resolution of the county bar association proclaiming Judge Sheely "a jurist whose eminent ability has earned for him the high respect not only of ourselves but of lawyers and judges from all parts of the Commonwealth."

Judge Sheely has served the county since January, 1936, a tribute to his ability and integrity. His opinions have been upheld consistently in higher courts.

The painting was unveiled by 12-year-old John Oyler, close personal friend of Judge and Mrs. Sheely, and son of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Oyler, Biglerville R. 1. The young man also unveiled the painting presented to the law school last spring.

In commenting on the event, Bulleit said, "Every man in this room either served his apprenticeship under Judge Sheely or was admitted to the bar before him. More than half of them went to school during his presidency of the law school." The association has 20 members.

LAUDS MEMBERS

In accepting the honor, Judge Sheely said, "If I have had success in the bar, it's because of the support I've had from its (Continued On Page 3)

Kennedy Warns Russians U.S. Prepared For Any Crisis In Cuba Plotting

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has bluntly warned the Soviet Union that if it ever again sets up offensive weapons in Cuba the United States will know it and will be prepared for history's greatest crisis.

The risks in such a situation would be so alarming, Kennedy told his news conference Thursday, that he believes "the Soviet Union will proceed with caution and care."

And the President said the same goes for the United States, which he said must not be stampeded into rash action on the basis of rumor and hearsay concerning Soviet strength in Cuba.

Kennedy's remarks, delivered with obvious feeling, represented a blast aimed at two targets:

1. At the Kremlin leaders who continue to keep a formidable supply of short-range arms in Cuba.

2. At administration critics, in and out of Congress, who suggest

BLACK WALNUT DINNER SETS GOAL AT $6,000

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District Thursday night opened Boy Scout Week with a "kick-off" dinner for its annual campaign for funds in the district outside Gettysburg.

He added, "We've all got to work harder, see more people, and urge those who gave before to increase their giving somewhat to help us meet the new goal."

Dr. W. E. Tilburg, special gifts chairman, reported that $825 has been raised so far by his division.

Sam Weiser Recalls Severe Blizzard Of 1895 That Sent Mercury Down To Two Below

One of Adams County's older residents tells this story about one of the worst blizzards and snow storms ever to strike the county.

Samuel Weiser, retired railroad engineer, in recounting the event, says it stands out in his memory because of the presence of Henry Waterson, an elderly editor and lecturer, who was in Gettysburg February 8, 1895, to deliver a lecture in Brua Chapel on the college campus.

The snow storm began during the lecture and continued so hard that persons attending the affair had difficulty getting home.

Waterson, who was editor of the Louisville, Ky., Journal, was scheduled to lecture in Chicago the following Saturday and was determined to reach Harrisburg to make train connections.

FATHER WAS ENGINEER

"My father, Samuel Sr., was the engineer on the Reading line from Gettysburg to Harrisburg, and he told Waterson we couldn't make it, but the old gentleman insisted we try," Weiser said.

ILLNESS HITS SCHOOL PUPILS

Almost 200 youngsters were missing from their classes in Gettysburg schools today as colds, flu, virus and gripe took their toll. A handful of teachers also were missing from their posts.

Meade School reported the highest percentage of absenteeism where 27 of the 220 pupils failed to report today. Six or seven absences are "usual."

The St. Francis Parochial School reported exactly one-tenth of its boys and girls were missing today. There are 480 enrolled there.

At both Eisenhower and Keefe Elementary Schools about five per cent of the 600 pupils assigned to each building were absent this morning.

The Junior High School reported attendance "about normal for this time of year" with 96 per cent of the 1,300 youngsters on hand. At the Senior High School there were 34 missing among the 615 pupils assigned there and two teachers were absent.

Some of the schools said absences had been higher earlier in the week.

Following the kick-off dinner members of the district committee met with Chairman Worley to discuss plans for Boy Scout Week ending February 13. Noting that there are 861 boys currently in the units in the district the committee held that a lack at the moment is additional organizations to sponsor additional Scout units. The district committeemen reported they stand ready at any moment to help set up units and train leaders for any organization wishing to sponsor a Scout organization.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who claims the Soviet Union is maintaining offensive bases in Cuba, huddles today with Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The subject under discussion, of course, will be Cuba. Keating told a reporter Thursday night. Keating said the mid-afternoon session in his office was being held at McCone's request.

Keating is perhaps the severest Senate critic of the administration's Cuban policy. Despite repeated assertions by the Kennedy administration that all threatening missiles and bombers have been removed from Cuba, Keating has said he is not convinced.

Little Wonder The Lady Was Unhappy

DETROIT (AP)—Irene Janowski, a beautician, was most unhappy with the shampoo her husband gave her when she got home from work.

The homemade shampoo consisted of sugar, salt, ketchup, mustard, salad dressing, meat sauce and a can of macaroni—all well mixed, she told Judge Arthur Koscinski.

"I thought it might help her in her work," Alexander Janowski told the court.

He pleaded guilty to an assault charge and will be sentenced March 7.

Germany Wants Britain In Mart

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today President Charles de Gaulle promised him that Britain's entry into the Common Market would be the first question for consultation between France and Germany after their new treaty goes into effect.

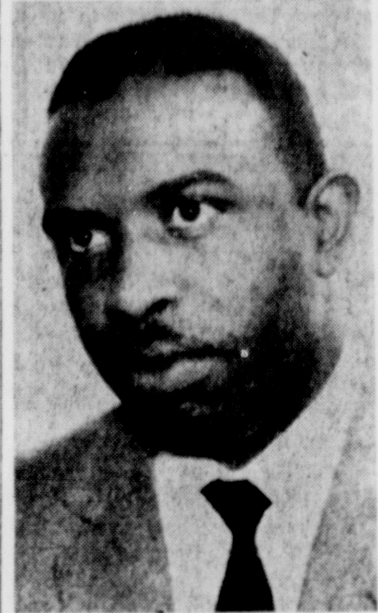

Adenauer hopes to have the treaty ratified by Parliament before July. De Gaulle is expected to visit Bonn about that time.

Adenauer told parliament he informed De Gaulle that the German people and he himself favor Britain's entry. This talk in Paris took place a week after De Gaulle took a strong stand that resulted in suspension of negotiations between Britain and the six continental nations of the Common Market.

GREAT LAKES

Daniel P. Dentler and Lynn Smith, contains 10 counts.

On each count Great Lakes asks the court to hand down a judgment in its favor against Pet Milk Co. "in the penal sum" of $500, or a total of $5,000. It asks judgment "in penal sum" of $500 against Dentler on eight counts against him, or $4,000, and asks judgment in two counts of $500 "in penal sum" against Smith, or a total of $1,000 from him.

MAKE ALLEGATIONS

In each of the counts the Great Lakes cooperative alleges that the person named in the count entered into an agreement with the cooperative to be his sole sales agent. In the first count it is alleged that Dentler induced Elliott Schlosser to sell cherries to Pet Milk in violation of his agreement. In the second through eighth counts Dentler, as agent for Pet Milk, is alleged to have "attempted to induce" growers who had signed previously with Great Lakes to sell their cherries to Pet Milk Co. The growers listed as the ones whom Dentler "knowingly sought to induce" are: Floyd A. Kuhn, Orrtanna R. 1; Edna M. Kuhn, Cashtown; Donald B. Hall, Orrtanna R. 1; Ernest D. Rebert, Biglerville R. 1; Richard Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 1; Bushey Brothers, Biglerville R. 2, and Robert L. Kime, Aspers R. 1. According to the complaint, the growers had entered into agreements with Great Lakes at various times dating back to January, 1969, but all prior to the dates in July, 1962, when Dentler allegedly sought to induce the growers to sell direct to the Musselman Division of Pet Milk.

Counts nine and ten of the complaint make similar allegation against Lynn Smith, York Springs R. 2, alleging that he attempted, as an agent of Pet Milk, to induce Glenn F. Kime, Gardners R. 1, and Lee V. Blevins, Stewartstown, to sell cherries to Pet Milk. Kime allegedly signed a contract with Great Lakes May 11, 1962, and Blevins on June 14, 1961.

ern Maryland Railroads. It is the locomotive which was captured by Union troops during the Civil War. Details of the "chase" by the Confederates will be outlined in displays in the 100-year-old car attached to the engine.

Simon introduced George Kabush, news director for the centennial, who said that within 10 days a printed brochure will be available for distribution listing the events as arranged up to the present time.

Simon reported that the National Park Service is planning a special series of programs in an outdoor amphitheater to begin July 1 and continue each evening through the summer season. Basis for the program will be the prize winning Dore Schary film on Gettysburg, together with such events as the singing of Civil War songs and demonstrations of the use of Civil War equipment.

SUMMER PROGRAM

He added, "We are doing our utmost to urge organizations which wish to sponsor events here to schedule them during the remainder of the summer rather than during the four days of the centennial which will be heavily crowded with activities."

"Our effort is to spread the centennial over the entire summer concluding with the commission's observance of the 100th anniversary of the dedication of the cemetery on November 19," he said.

Bill Warren raised the question of "what to do with the requests we are receiving, and which the Chamber of Commerce and the state centennial commission are receiving, from people who want to make reservations for lodging here during the centennial period."

BILLBOARD IN SOUTH

William Richardson, chairman of the billboard committee of the Travel Council, reported that a location has been secured in South Carolina to place a large sign urging people to follow Route 15 north from Florida and visit Gettysburg enroute home.

Several members reported that informal surveys they made among visitors to their establishments showed the Dominion, Syracuse and Rochester AAA offices are routing their members to Florida via Routes 111-301, instead of Route 15. They said the persons who visited their establishments returned via Route 15, because the facilities for accommodations, are better on Route 15.

President Marshall Tuckey presided at the meeting. A vote of thanks was given Tuckey for providing the dinner for the meeting.

members." He said that "promptness has meant a great deal" in the execution of legal performance and "this bar has been conducted on schedule." He reminisced briefly on his experiences in the local court and on his relationship with individual members of the association. He emphasized his opportunities to know the lawyers practicing before him. "In a city, lawyers never get into the judge's office." He said that this association is one of the reasons that "this is such a wonderful bar."

Drawing from his unique humor, he said, "I'm sure there are quite a few people in the county who will enjoy seeing me hang in the courthouse." But, he added, "I am flabbergasted" by the honor.

PRESENT GIFTS

Atty. Charles W. Wolf, chairman of the special committee to honor Judge Sheely, presented Mrs. Sheely with a miniature photographic reproduction of the painting. John Oyler and Judge Sheely received 8x10 copies as souvenir gifts. Serving with Wolf on the committee were Atty. J. Francis Yake and S. M. Raffensperger.

The committee to honor Judge Sheely was named last summer by Atty. Donald G. Oyler, former president of the association, to select an appropriate commemorative program. The committee recommended the presentation of a portrait and was authorized to commission the artist for an oil portrait.

A special souvenir program, prepared by the committee was presented to each guest. It included a reproduction of the painting, the resolution adopted by the association for the presentation and the menu. The cover was purple velvet, tied with a gold cord and tassel.

ADAMS "DAIRY

Joseph Taylor, dairy extension specialist from Pennsylvania State University, told the group that dairymen can compete with other dairymen throughout the nation "as long as they keep costs down and produce efficiently." He urged greater use of the forage testing service to determine the total digestive nutrients available in the forage produced at the farm, so the dairymen need not waste food. He also urged participation in Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing. Observing that DHIA herds in the state have an average production of 11,000 pounds of milk compared to 7,700 pounds for the state-wide average, Taylor said, "Some cows are just not paying their way, and unless you have some testing program you don't know which cows they are."

He urged the farmers to take the Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on Civil Defense. He noted, "With nuclear testing going on, there is always the possibility that sometime you may be faced by contamination. The least you should do is to have two weeks' feed indoors in case fallout levels should ever reach such a point that you should have to take your cattle indoors for a time. There is nothing to be alarmed about but the possibility should be considered as part of good management."

ANNOUNCES WORKSHOPS

Thomas Piper, area marketing agent, spoke on the "Dairy Outlook" and urged attendance by the dairymen at the "Adams County Dairy Marketing Workshop" to be held February 22, March 1, 8, 15 and 22 at the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank. Among matters to be discussed at the workshop sessions will be trends in production and consumption, support prices, milk marketing principles, federal orders, butterfat versus solids, federal orders, etc.

Other details to be discussed will include the effect of various technological developments, including the canning of milk to make refrigeration unnecessary. The group dined at St. James Lutheran Church here at noon with the meal served by the Mothers' Class of the church.

Ninety-four Adams County children from 45 families received services from the Adams County Child Welfare Services during January, according to reports submitted Thursday evening at the February meeting of the advisory board in the organization's offices in the Topper Building, Baltimore St.

Miss Dorothy Curtis, executive director for the child welfare services, told the board that 74 of the children are under direct care and the 20 others are under indirect care.

GROUP PROBES

held within the next few weeks. The discussion Thursday night, covered a wide field of recreational needs but the group seemed to feel that most of the needs are being met in one way or another by present facilities.

Reports showed that churches, schools, and other rooms are available for meetings. A snack bar for teen-agers was suggested but it was also suggested that the Youth Center might be able to fill that need at its quarters on N. Washington St.

DISCUSS BUILDING

A large community center building to be constructed at Recreation Field, which could provide rooms for meetings, plays, crafts, dances, an indoor swimming pool, and other facilities, plus space for the fire department and the municipal offices, was discussed briefly as a future possibility.

Councilmen McCoy and Schwenk said that the proposed enlargement of the fire house and its conversion into a municipal building will help meet some of the needs of the community for meeting rooms.

McCoy said that the fire department in its present location of E. Middle St. is able to provide better service than it would if located elsewhere in the town because it is close to the business places from which drivers, firemen and ambulance crews can be drawn.

The group appeared to agree that the best way to finance the proposed swimming pool would be through the federal matching funds program under which the borough would provide one-half

QUESTION PLAN

The question was raised concerning the borough's half of the cost, if the other half could be raised by the federal funds.

The final conclusion was that the quickest and easiest way to obtain a pool was to determine that the community wanted it and for the borough to go ahead with the project, and financing it in a feasible manner.

Guile Lefever summed up that portion of the discussion by saying "The question is — do the people want it? If they do they will have to tell borough council that they want it and are willing to pay for it."

Hartley asked whether the matter could be put on the ballot in a public referendum, but the general consensus was that such a procedure would take too long to permit the town to make application under the present set-up for matching funds. The application for such funds should be submitted by April if it is to qualify for federal funds under the present program which expires July 1. The group was told that the federal agency needs at least three months to process the application because of the numerous applications from communities throughout the nation.

SEEKS MERGER

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Sparsely populated Cooke Township is seeking a merger with nearby Penn Township because there are not enough people living in Cooke to operate a municipal government.

The Cumberland County community, with only 12 fulltime residents, has 11 elective offices to be filled.

Rare Event: February has five Sundays, an occurrence that can happen only about three times in a century. The last time this was the case was in 1920 and it will not occur again until 1976. Durhad five Sundays in 1823, 1832 and 1880.There will be three eclipses in of the sun, none of them visible in this immediate section of the globe.A partial eclipse of the moon is to occur April 23, an annular eclipse of the sun May 8, invisible in the United States except in the state of Washington; and a total eclipse of the sun, November 1, with the path of totality starting in the Belgian Congo and ending west of New Zealand.According to the Centennial Al-

EVENTS

The movement of the world is along an avenue of events. A human life itself is but the story of events in that life. These events are created, and brought to full fruition, by daring men and women with rich blood in their arteries.People with no imagination, who allow the blood that is theirs to course through their veins, instead of their arteries, are mere followers. They have no magic to stir and forward events.Men and women become events — in themselves! A fine mind, or heart is an event. Each, in itself is a breeder of events. And every time any of us creates and distributes, a stream of events flow forth!But we mustn't pay any attention to these events. They will take care of themselves. Our only concern must be in their creation.Dissatisfaction on our part is a great event. Just the moment we become contented and satisfied, we become sterile and void of abundance.The wealth that we own lies concentrated in our understanding and appraisal of life's values.
And an accurate appraisal is reached by our knowledge of all that is rich and worthy in things and people that form our environment. Out from this, alone, events always arise.When Michael Angelo conceived his "Moses" for instance, the conception itself was an event
— but when he completed the task of placing that event into enduring bronze, he made his love and art an event.That day alone is lost, into whose chamber no event is made to breed!Nature is lavish in events. All its beauties form a cluster.
Spring, summer, autumn, winter
— each is a garment of hues, enveloping an atmosphere of events that pave the path of the world with inspirations that invite all the hope toward which any of us may aspire.Tomorrow's subject: "The

MAN AND CHEMISTRY

If we be nothing but carbon and water

And sulphur and iron in proper blend;

If chemists can reckon up son and daughter

And carry them out to the formula's end,

Why since a balance precise they strike,

Should not men and women be all alike?

All things else which chemists

learn

Over and over again they prove;

All other compounds freeze or burn

And constant stay to their charted groove.

But measured and weighed to the fraction true,

Nobody knows what a child will do.

Iron is iron and steel is steel

Follow the formula through and through

And the cold result will at last reveal

That four is the answer to two times two.

But measured and weighed as best they can

Not all our chemists can make a man.

Abandoned Pups; Seeks Homes:
Four little puppies, approximate-their owner late Monday afternoon, found a friend in Tim Gifford, 10, and sanctuary in the Gifford residence on Oak Hill.When Tim, son of Dr. and Mrs.

Roy W. Gifford, was returning home from sledding late Monday afternoon he found the four little female pups in his driveway.
They were struggling along, shivering and whimpering. He gathered them into his house. He telephoned his mother, who was attending a meeting in town, and then with the assistance of the Gifford maid heated some milk and started to feed the abandoned pups.Throughout the night the little things were given loving care and this morning appeared bright and happy. Mrs. Gifford said their eyes are clear, noses dry and they seem to be very healthy."These pups could not have lived through the night in this cold weather," Mrs. Gifford said.SEEK TO CURB

NEAR SHRINESHARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed resolution, aimed at halting outdoor advertising along highways leading into national shrines is among several to be acted upon today at the closing session of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation's
(AAA) annual management conference.Managers and representatives of the state's 50 AAA motor clubs heard an AAA official from Washington Thursday criticize what he termed "honky-tonk advertising signs" along highways leading into historic Gettysburg.Russell E. Singer, executive vice president of the AAA, called the situation a "disgrace to this hallowed national shrine."

MAY STOP TOURISTS

He contended tourists soon would stop visiting areas whose appearances were marred by the signs."Unless the properly constituted state and city authorities, as well as the business community of Gettysburg, take steps to clean up the approaches to the battlefield areas, they will find that the goose that laid the golden egg is dead," Singer said.The motor club managers met briefly Thursday night with E.
Wilson Purdy, former police chief in St. Petersburg, Fla., who was sworn in earlier in the day as Pennsylvania state police commissioner.Purdy heard several recommendations which the state AAA hopes will be enacted into law by the 1963 General Assembly. One of the proposals would limit use of radar as a speed detection device to state police on properly posted state highways.Purdy revealed at his swearing-in ceremony that he favored use of radar by local authorities.Slight Decline In in 1961. A pack contains 20 cigarettes.The department obtained its average by dividing the number of packs consumed by its census count of persons over 14 years

a promised withdrawal "in due

BUFFET STATE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter renewed its assault on Pennsylvania today, driving the mercury below zero in many places and buffeting the state with biting winds.The west, as so often happens, caught the worst of it, as evidenced by these temperature readings at 7 a.m., all below zero
— Pittsburgh and Johnstown two,
Blairsville four, Philipsburg five,
Warren and Franklin seven, Du-Bois eight. Readings well below zero were reported also in the Scranton and Wilkes-Barre sections.In the southeastern region, after two days of weather mild enough to carry a hint of spring, however faint, the mercury began a decent at midnight which hit a low of three above at 8 a.m. A slight upward movement started thereafter.

COLD ONSLAUGHT

This cold wave is another in the series of arctic onslaughts which have borne down upon wide areas of the country from the north and west. From all indications it will last through Saturday, and perhaps through the entire weekend.

Warriors Face Tough Road In Title Quest; Entertain Greyhounds Here Tonight

A clean sweep of their final five league games is almost mandatory for the Gettysburg High School basketball team if it is to figure in the championship picture of the Blue Mountain League.

Tonight the Warriors take on Shippensburg here after which they face such rugged assignments as Camp Hill on the latter's floor next Tuesday. Big Spring here February 15, Biglerville at Biglerville on February 19, and Northern at Dillsburg, February 22.

The Warriors will have to show vast improvement in the coming games if they are to stay in the running. East Pennsboro rocked the squad 37-32 here Tuesday after having lost on its home court to the Warriors in the first half by a 24-point margin.

Gettysburg has an easy 48-37 winner at Shippensburg in December but the Greyhounds came along strong until halted by Biglerville Tuesday. The Warriors have been inconsistent performers recently and title aspirations will rest on a complete reversal of form.

Biglerville, along with Gettysburg, in a four-way tie for second place in the second half race, takes on Susquehanna (1-3) at Biglerville this evening and should add another victory.

Big Spring, first half titlist, plays at Newport, Northern at East Pennsboro, and Boiling Springs at Camp Hill in other BML games.

BIG GAME AT N.O.

The top game in the Adams-Franklin League pits the respective division leaders against each other at New Oxford where the Colonials meet unbeaten Greencastle.

New Oxford, with a six-game winning streak and a 10-2 record, previously lost at Greencastle 68-55.

Rounding out tonight's A-F schedule will be Littlestown at Fairfield, Buchanan at Bermudian, Fannett-Metal at Scotland, and St. Thomas at Quincy.

All Central Penn Catholic League teams will resume second half play tonight with Lebanon Catholic at Delone, York Catholic at Shamokin Lourdes, and Bishop McDevitt at Lancaster.

Delone, now 8-8 after losing five of its last six games, won over the Beavers at Lebanon in the first half 49-45.

WILLS BEefs ABOUT BALKS

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Maury Wills, the Los Angeles Dodgers' speed demon, says he has no arguments with the umpires, but he thinks some pitchers balk in trying to keep him from stealing bases.

Wills, who stole 104 bases last season, warmed up to the subject of umpires and balks Thursday night after receiving the Frederick C. Miller-Fraternity Order of Eagles Trophy as the 1962 Athlete of the Year.

"I never argue with umpires," Wills said. "When they call me out on a close play at second, I don't think I can squawk. They call me safe a lot on close plays down there, too. I think the umpires do the best job they can."

Wills named Warren Spahn, Billy Pierce, Larry Jackson, Roger Craig, Art Mahaffey and Juan Marichal as among the toughest pitchers to steal against.

"Spahn is toughest because he balks and gets away with it," he said.

Wills added that "a lot of pitchers balk, but it's just to a certain degree and they get away with it."

Wills won the Athlete of the Year in The Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters.

NYU LOOMS AS AMONG BEST IN EAST ON COURT

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Happy is the name, the disposition and the reaction.

The name and disposition belong to Harold (Happy) Hairston, a rangy junior cornerman for New York University. He got the name and disposition because, like Topsy, he just grew that way. The reaction comes from NYU basketball coach Lou Rusini and the Violets fans. They couldn't be happier that the 6-foot-7 scoring whiz is back.

Hairston, just returned to the team after sitting out the first half of the season because of academic difficulties, combined with Barry Kramer for 66 points as New York U. beat Furman 108-82 in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The victory pushed the Violets' record to 11-2 and marked NYU as one of the prime Eastern candidates for a berth in postseason tournament, either the NCAA or the National Invitational.

Temple beat Manhattan 57-47 in the first half of the doubleheader, winning its 13th in 17 starts.

In their major games, Providence beat DePaul 77-59 at Providence; Niagara, which won its first 10 games, lost its second straight, 68-67 at Syracuse; Notre Dame defeated Boston College 74-66 at Newton, Mass., homestanding North Carolina trounced Maryland 82-68 and Oklahoma City won at Hardin-Simmons 96-84.

TWINS' STAR SIGNS PACT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's a good reason why most major league batters take a firm toe hold and a big swing, seeking to hit the long ball instead of a measly of single.

They figure that healthy home run and runs batted in totals will result in healthier paychecks. And it's true as far as Harmon Killebrew is concerned. The slugging Minnesota outfielder batted only .243 and struck out 142 times last season. But he also paced the American League in homers with 48 and RBI, 126.

Thursday, Killebrew signed his 1963 contract for a reported $40,000 to $45,000. According to Twins' owner, Cal Griffith, Harmon got a "nice raise" over his $36,000 of last season.

Killebrew, who came to terms via telephone from his home in Ontario, Ore., told Griffith he would report at the Twins' camp Feb. 26.

Two other Twins' players returned their signed contracts. They were pitchers Bill Pleis and Gerry Arrigo, both left-handers.

Warriors, Pistons Fight For Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Warriors and the Detroit Pistons probably will battle right down to the wire for the third and last playoff spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Just when it seemed that the Warriors would begin to pull away from the Pistons, they were beaten Thursday night by the Cincinnati Royals of the Eastern Division 134-129. It was the only NBA game scheduled.

On Wednesday the Warriors had beaten Detroit 117-116 and moved one full game ahead of the Pistons. Now they are half a game ahead with a 22-36 record to Detroit's 21-36.

Newcomer Gets Tough TV Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Wayne Thornton, a light heavyweight newcomer from California, has been handed a tough nut in his big time and television debut. He hopes to crack it.

The wavy-haired, 23-year-old 175-pounder takes on Willie Pastano, the shifty third-ranking light heavyweight contender, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Pastano, 28, of Miami, has been made the favorite at about 3-1.

Thornton, a Fresno, Calif., resident, comes to Gotham town with a 26-2 record, eight straight knockouts this year and a winning streak of nine in all.

PHOENIX OPEN RACE IS TIGHT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Open Golf Tournament was skin tight going into the second round today with three par-busters sharing a one-stroke lead and 42 others within four blows of them.

Out front in the four-day race for $35,000 prize money after 54-under-par 67s Thursday were Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Jay Hebert.

Breathing down their necks at 68 were Arnold Palmer, who is trying to win this one for the third straight year; Tommy Aaron, Bob Harris and Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros and Jimmy Clark.

Ten others were grouped at 69; 10, including Billy Casper, at 70, and 16 at 71.

Nicklaus, Palmer, Player and Casper already have won tournaments this year. The only 1963 winner who failed to break par 72 on the flat 6,679-yard Arizona Country Club course was Jack Burke Jr. He shot a 75.

Goalie Makes 48 Saves Against Aces

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Giacomin was all aces against the Quebec Aces in the American Hockey League Thursday night.

The 5-foot-11 goalie for Providence made 48 saves as the Reds blanked the Aces 2-0 and took over first place in the Eastern Division. It was the only AHL game scheduled.

It was the second straight victory for the Reds over the Aces on Quebec ice and in each case it was Giacomin's brilliant defensive play that made the difference. On Tuesday, he made 43 saves as Providence won 4-1 and tied Quebec for the lead.

Thus in two straight games against the Aces, Giacomin, a 23-year-old native of Sudbury, Ont., kicked aside 91 of 92 shots on the Providence goal.

Charlie Hodge, the Quebec goalie, made 23 saves but Larry Leach beat him for what proved to be the winning goal 51 seconds after the start of the second period.

Glass Rated Best Small School Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Glass, a 6-foot senior at Mississippi Industrial, retained his No. 1 ranking last week in the small college individual basketball scoring race, although his per game average dipped from 42.0 to 40.2.

Latest statistics, released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, show Glass has compiled his average on 522 points in 13 games through last Saturday. He has 201 field goals and 120 free throws.

Gerry Govan, of St. Mary's, Kan., leads in rebounds with 355 in 14 games for an average of 25.4.

Indonesia Teams Out Of Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Indonesia has drawn an indefinite suspension from the International Olympics Committee, making its teams ineligible for the 1964 Olympics.

IOC President Avery Brundage announced the suspension Thursday after a seven-hour meeting with the committee. He said the action was taken "because of the scandalous occurrences at last year's fourth Asian Games in Jakarta."

The suspension is the first ever leveled in the 69-year history of the International Olympic Committee.

Athletes from Israel and Nationalist China were barred from the Asian Games when they were refused entry visas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., has introduced a bill to prohibit interstate bribery schemes to influence the outcome of sporting events.

The bill would apply to use of interstate facilities—such as the telephone or the mails—to carry out a bribery conspiracy. The maximum penalty for violation would be 10 years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

NL REJECTED FRICK'S PLAN FOR SCHEDULE

NEW YORK (AP) — If Commissioner Ford Frick had his way, the major leagues would unveil the most intriguing and revolutionary playing schedule in baseball's long history in 1963.

Frick's plan, accepted by the American League but rejected by the National League at its summer meeting in Chicago following the second All-Star game, was an interlocking schedule in which all 20 clubs could be seen in every big league city.

The proposed arrangements were veiled in such secrecy that few authoritative persons will discuss it even now, least of all Frick.

WOULD CUT TRAVEL

Under the proposed plan, the playing schedule would be reduced from 162 to 157 games, which would tend to cut down travel, eliminate some of the travel problems and cut out the day-night doubleheaders, the players' chief complaint.

An American League official, who favored the commissioner's plan, had this to say:

"It's too bad the National League killed it. The commissioner showed far-sightedness and progressive thinking. I think the interlocking schedule idea is inevitable. It offers all of the stars in both majors, now restricted to fans in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago."

40 INTERLEAGUE GAMES

The rejected schedule called for each club to play 117 games against teams in its own league and 40 interleague games. The season would open April 9 and close Sept. 29. The first set of interleague games would get underway in mid-June and until the end of July all competition would be between teams in rival leagues.

During that six-week period, every team would play four contests with each team in the rival league, two at home and two on the road. Thus a National League club would play 13 games against teams in its own league and four against teams in the American League. The same would hold true from the American League end.

G-BURG LEADS ON DEFENSE IN MAC LOOP

New leaders appeared in three of five basketball statistical categories in the Middle Atlantic Conference's University Division this week. Statistics include only games through last Saturday.

Lafayette's Preston Denby climbed from sixth to first in field goals, and Gene Denahan, also of Lafayette, rose from third to first in free throws.

Bucknell's Lorry Hathaway finally edged Muhlenberg's Roger Stuhlmiller out of the rebounding lead, with Hathaway averaging 13.3 rebounds a game compared to Stuhlmiller's 13.0 a game.

A complete shuffle occurred in team defense, where a spread of less than six points separates four teams. Gettysburg took the defensive lead this week after holding court foes to 51.8 points a game. Temple rose from third to second on the strength of a 54.9-point defensive average, while deposed leader LaSalle now occupies third with a 55-point average. St. Joseph's rose a notch, from fifth to fourth, after limiting MAC opponents to 57 points a game.

STROUSE HOLDS LEAD

In the only leads not changed this week, Gettysburg's George Strouse holds the advantage in individual scoring, while LaSalle ranks first in team offense.

Strouse has averaged 19.5 points a game; the LaSalle quintet has accounted for 86.3 points a game.

The figures reveal the following performances by other Bullets: scoring, Ted Koerner, seventh, 16.4 average; field goal percentage, Roger Gaeckler, sixth, .515; Doug Kepner, eighth, .471; free throw percentages, Strouse, ninth, .741; Koerner, 10th, .737.

SENATE PROBE LOOMS IN ROW

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new row among rival American track and field organizations threatened today to bring a full scale Senate investigation.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, instructed his staff to resume its interrupted preliminary investigation.

Kefauver had halted the inquiry to await developments, after Gen. Douglas MacArthur arranged a truce on Jan. 19 among those who supervise and police collegiate and other amateur track and field events. The truce has proved to be less than 100 per cent effective.

Main figures in the dispute are the Amateur Athletic Union, National Collegiate Athletic Association, the college-backed United States Track and Field Federation, and some smaller partisan groups.

President Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Kefauver and others have expressed concern the fight might hurt this country's chances to field its strongest team in the 1964 Olympic Games.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League today hired veteran Herman Ball as assistant line coach.

SCRIBE PICKS GIANTS TO WIN SERIES IN '63

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The new baseball season will bring new faces, new stars, new thrills and new problems but probably the same two teams in the World Series—the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants.

This was the early forecast in this corner but this time the Giants should win the world championship. It's much easier, however, to pick the cellar-finishers—the New York Mets in the National League and the Washington Senators in the American.

Another early prediction is that Casey Stengel, the septuagenarian manager of the Mets, will retire near or at the end of the 1963 season and be succeeded by Gil Hodges, who will retire as an active player.

BOTH GAINED

The record number of winter trades that involved nearly all 20 teams in the majors, may tip the scale in the flag races. Certainly neither the Giants nor the Yankees hurt their pennant chances with the deals they consummated.

Neither team stood pat. The Giants acquired pitching help in right-hander Jack Fisher and left-hander Billy Hoelt, and strengthened its bench with the addition of infielder Joey Amalfitano. The Yankees gave up power when they traded Bill Skowron to Los Angeles for right-hander Stan Williams, but got help where they needed it most—in the pitching department.

The Dodgers replaced Williams with right-hander Bob Miller. They are loaded with talent but so are the Giants, who still have Willie Mays, perhaps the greatest all-around player in baseball.

TWINS, TIGERS TOUGH

Minnesota and an improved Detroit team should give the Yankees the stiffest competition. The Twins challenge the Yankees for the most power in the league and the Tigers don't figure to have the same misfortune they had in 1962 when Al Kaline was sidelined for nearly three months and Frank Ray, the pitching ace, was useless virtually all season, because of a sore arm.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox may be the most improved teams.

BOLSTER LINEUPS

The Cardinals fortified their infield by the acquisition of shortstop Dick Groat, the National League's most valuable player in 1960, from Pittsburgh. They strengthened their attack trading for outfielder George Altman, who batted .318 and hit 22 home runs with Chicago last year, and they assuaged some of their pitching losses by acquiring ace reliever Diomedes Olivo from the Pirates along with Ron Taylor, a promising young starter from Cleveland.

The Red Sox, one of the most active winter traders, strengthened their offense immeasurably, acquiring sluggers Dick Stuart, Roman Mejias and utility men Felix Mantilla and Dick Williams.

MACHEN SIGNS NEW MANAGER; TO SEEK TITLE

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Eddie Machen kayaked by mental illness two months ago, has the new manager he wants and aims for a comeback to capture the world championship.

Real estate developer Walter Minskoff signed a contract Thursday as Machen's manager in a five-year pact guaranteeing the troubled fighter $1,000 per month plus a $5,000 bonus for signing.

But there were rumblings from Machen's old manager, Sid Flaherty, and Flaherty's attorney, Nathan Cohn.

"This is up to the attorneys to work out," said Flaherty. "I have a contract."

"UNDER CONTRACT"

Cohn said he had sent a letter to Machen's attorney which said that the fighter was under contract to a corporation in Portland, Ore.

Whether Machen regains his boxing license could be settled within 10 days since he has undergone examination by Dr. Robert Durand, physician for the California Athletic Commission.

Minskoff, 37, has been a real estate developer both in New York and California. He has handled one boxer previously, former California state middleweight champion Willie Vaughn.

Machen, 30, was rated the top heavyweight contender by the World Boxing Association at the time he was hospitalized last Dec. 12 after threatening suicide. On Jan. 18 he was released from the hospital after psychiatric treatment.

"I don't want to fight for Flaherty anymore," Machen said recently. "What have I got for all my years as a ranking heavyweight? Nothing."

PARENTS' NIGHT BANQUET HELD BY EXPLORERS

The annual parents' night banquet of Explorer Post 84 was held Thursday evening in the Kingsdale fire hall when a roast turkey meal was served by the fire company auxiliary. Guest speaker was the Rev. William R. Jones, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, who used as a basis for his message the paragraph from the Explorer Code: "I will acquire the Explorer attitude that seeks the truth in all things and adventure on the frontiers of our changing world."

The Rev. Mr. Jones spoke directly to the Explorers, challenging them to discover the "what," the "how" and the "why" of all things in their lives, stating that there is room for every Explorer to explore and advising them to "have self-confidence and faith in" to be individuals. He closed his talk with the words of the Explorer Code: "And I will light a candle at every outpost I pass for the next man who comes along." The speaker's advice to parents was "be patient until they are out of the cocoon."

The program was in two parts with the second part a series of colored slide pictures on the post's Canadian trip last year and other Exploring activities, shown by the post advisor, Stanley Frock, following a resume of the trip by Post Committeeman Paul L. Hollinger.

GUESTS INTRODUCED

William Ritter, vice president, gave the invocation prior to the meal. Past President Thomas Shildt was in charge and introduced the guests at the speaker's table.

U.S. RELEASES SPY SECRETS AT NEWS MEET

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—In its effort to document its case on Cuba, the administration broke with cloak-and-dagger tradition and unveiled some trade secrets of jet age spying.

In their living rooms, television viewers got a look at the kind of intelligence briefing usually seen only behind guarded doors of the Pentagon and State Department.

Obviously, the news conference late Wednesday on Soviet military strength in Cuba was put together to counter congressional claims that the Soviet buildup was bigger and a greater hazard than the Kennedy administration has admitted.

McNAMARA BRIEFS

Secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara put it this way:

"We are dealing with very sensitive matters... we considered it so important to expose to you the extent of our knowledge that we have done so, even at the risk of degrading our intelligence capability. It is always a fine line to draw between the release of information that is in the public interest on the one hand and the maintenance of security of our intelligence collection efforts on the other."

The two-hour briefing by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and John T. Hughes, special assistant to Gen. Joseph Carroll, director of the Pentagon's Defense Intelligence Agency, was remarkable for several reasons.

DETAILED PHOTOS

One was the detailed photographs, projected on a 12-foot high screen. Another was that it revealed intelligence collecting methods still being used. Traditionally, a spy operation is blanketed in secrecy for many years.

Some of the photographs were made at high altitudes (perhaps

Plan Booklet On War Centennial

The Waynesboro Civil War Centennial Commission is planning to publish a souvenir booklet in connection with the observance in Waynesboro June 28 and 29.

The commission plans to finance the cost of the publication through patron subscriptions. Merchants and business places will not be solicited for advertising, the commission agreed in its last meeting.

The booklet will contain historical facts of Waynesboro's five days under the Confederate flag and summaries of incidents in the skirmishes at Midvale and Brown's Springs and the destruction of the Confederate wagon train on the mountains above Rouzerville during General Robert E. Lee's retreat from Gettysburg.

The information will be collated from the several histories of the War Between the States and the papers of the late Jacob H. Stoner, Waynesboro historian.

COOPERSTOWN GAME SET

above 60,000 feet). Others were low, one described as low as 600 feet.

One of the dramatic photographs caught the stark shadow of the camera plane as it flashed across a harbor area at 600 miles per hour—low, low down.

It was obvious that all of the intelligence didn't come from aerial reconnaissance. McNamara touched obliquely on the usually hush-hush work of agents and informers, usually refugees in the latter case.

He commented that several thousands reports come in each month on material and personnel moving into Cuba, all of it analyzed and evaluated.

SPACE FLIERS WILL HAVE TO BAG WHISKERS

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts will have to bag their whiskers after shaving on a spaceship—to prevent them from floating around the cabin and creating a fuzzy haze.

That's the word from Dr. Stanley C. White, a key scientist in the man-to-the-moon venture.

White says electric razors are being considered for use by astronauts because, for one thing, water will be at a premium. And, he says, with no water for a man-sized rinse, dried soap might irritate an astronaut's skin.

And unless corralled, he told a news conference Wednesday at the Space Medicine Symposium at Brooks Air Force Base, the shaved off whiskers—weightless, just like everything else aboard—would float around freely, creating at least a nuisance.

WHY SHAVE?

Other space buffs speculated that free-floating whiskers might even gum up the works in delicate electronic gear aboard the ship.

Dr. White, of the space agency's manned spacecraft center, got into the celestial shaving discussion in relating plans for the personal hygiene and other care of astronauts who participate in the Gemini program.

That's the venture in which two-man crews will orbit the earth for periods up to two weeks as a prelude to the moon flight.

"Why shave at all on a space ship?" a newsman asked.

"Because the beard acts as a collector of debris and dead skin," said White, "they'll need to shave."

"But they must gather the whiskers and put them in some kind of a container."

Crumlish Refuses To Drop City Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish, his appeal for assistance to the state attorney general rejected, says he plans to renew his own search for prosecutors to assist the current grand jury probe of city hall.

Crumlish announced his intention after returning from Harrisburg Wednesday night.

Crumlish met with Atty. Gen. Walter Alessandrini, who later announced he has no immediate plans to intervene in the grand jury investigation or to name special assistants. Alessandrini said, however, he does not give up his rights to supersede at a later date if he feels it is necessary.

Alessandrini has contended that Crumlish, a Democrat, should not head the probe because of close association with the Democratic city administration.

He said with Crumlish in charge there would be little public acceptance of the results, no matter what they were.

Start Drilling 2 Deep Gas Wells

Manufacturers Light and Heat Company this week began preliminary work for drilling two deep gas wells in Indiana County after bringing in a big "producer" there last month.

The producing well is located in an isolated area three miles northeast of Homer City. It has an open flow of 7.7 million cubic feet of natural gas per day.

The well was Manufacturers' second attempt to find gas in the area. The first try ended in a dry hole last July.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

PUSH WORK ON NINTH TUNNEL ON TURNPIKE

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Around-the-clock men and machines chew into a mountain on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. They're building a new tunnel to ease the traffic jam in the high Pennsylvania hills.

The tunnel, between Bedford and Somerset, about 60 miles east of Pittsburgh, is being driven right next to an existing tube, part of the tunnel network on the turnpike for 22 years.

With the new tunnel, the turnpike commission hopes the traffic problem will be solved.

However, it won't be until mid-1964 when the tunnel is completed. Then it will be about another year before the existing tube can be remodeled to handle four lanes of traffic through Allegheny Mountain.

NINTH TUNNEL

The $9 million tunnel is part of a program started by the Turnpike Commission several years ago. It is also building a four-lane bypass around the Laurel Tunnel. Upon completion, it will extend the turnpike less than a mile.

The combined projects will cost more than $20 million. Both projects, like all turnpike operations, will be paid for from tolls.

The new 6,090 foot tube will be the ninth on the turnpike. Seven of them are situated between Pittsburgh and Carlisle.

The tunnels were the original line first surveyed in the 1800's as a railroad. Six of the original railroad tunnels were used by the turnpike for construction begun in 1938. None of the railroad tunnels was completed when the railroad project was abandoned in 1885 by financiers Andrew Carnegie and William Vanderbilt.

What about other tunnels that at times become clogged with heavy traffic?

"It is a matter of economics," says a turnpike official. "When it is financially possible new tunnels

NEW YORK COP SWAPS BADGE FOR CASSOCK

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Raymond Grimes has made an unusual swap of costumes.

For 17 years he wore the uniform of the New York Police Department.

Most of the time he was a traffic cop. One of his posts was Times Square, about as busy a spot as can be found.

Now he wears the cassock of a Roman Catholic apostolic assistant—a layman who does what he can to help.

POSTMASTER TOO

And the village of Topawa deep in the heart of the arid, sun-baked Papago Indian Reservation where he and his wife live is about as quiet and tranquil as any in the nation.

In a way he is still handling traffic.

Instead of streams of cars, it is the trickle of mail that passes through the small Indian community. One of his tasks is to act as postmaster.

TURNED IN BADGE

Grimes is a sturdy, gray-haired man of 59 who decided there were more important things in life than unsmiling traffic—and did something about it.

In 1959 he turned in his badge, came to Tucson and offered his services to the Most Rev. Daniel J. Gercke, then Roman Catholic bishop of the diocese of Tucson.

The bishop sent him to the Solano Mission at Topawa, about eight miles south of the reservation headquarters at Sells.

LIKES TRANQUILITY

Grimes did whatever needed doing at the mission. Most of it was maintenance and repair work. The village needed a postmaster, so Grimes took over.

"I like this much better than New York," he said. "There is tranquility here, instead of the hustle and bustle of big city living."

Why did he decide he should devote his life to service to Roman Catholic missions?

"That's hard to put into words," he said. "My wife and I decided we should give our time and efforts to the furtherance of God's work. There is a satisfaction in doing for others that you don't get doing for yourself."

Always add boiling water when you are refilling the kettle in which a pudding or Boston brown bread is steaming so the steaming process won't be interrupted.

STATE SCOUT GOES TO D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Benjamin F. Heil Jr., 16-year-old Explorer Scout from Mount Carmel, Pa., has appointments today with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Health Secretary Anthony Celebrezze.

And next Wednesday he plans to meet with President Kennedy at the White House.

Heil is one of 12 Boy Scouts selected to represent the nation's more than five million Scouts during Boy Scout Week. The group was to have met with President Kennedy Thursday and give him their traditional "report to the nation."

But the trip has to be postponed. "The President was too busy with Cuban affairs," Heil said the group was told. "We'll meet him next Wednesday."

BUS, TROLLEY LINE STRIKES PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Red Arrow bus and trolley lines, which carry 120,000 riders daily in the western suburbs, were struck today in a contract dispute. Pickets were posted.

The strike came just a week after settlement of the 19-day strike by Transport Workers Union against all mass transit lines in Philadelphia. A majority of Red Arrow riders commute to jobs in Philadelphia.

No further negotiations were scheduled between Red Arrow and the striking union, Lodge 988, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which represents about 400 bus and trolley operators.

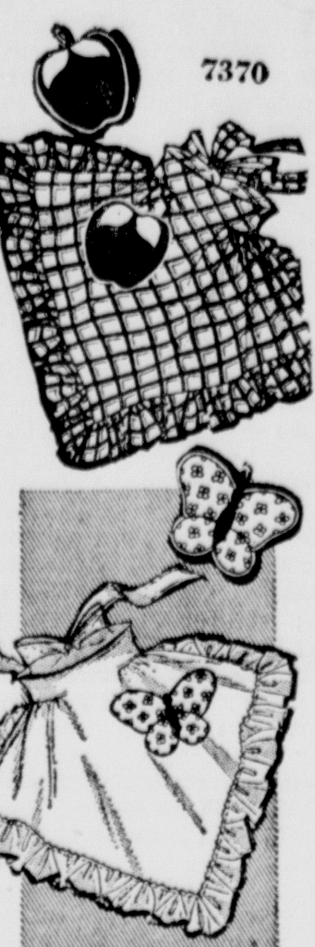

CONTRACTS EXPIRED

Red Arrow's contracts with the Brotherhood and Transport Workers Union Local 267, which represents about 200 maintenance men, expired Jan. 31. Service was interrupted for about two and a half hours then until the unions agreed to return to work while negotiations continued. That interruption and today's walkout are the first strikes in the company's 115-year history.

The TWU had urged the brotherhood not to strike Thursday night, but brotherhood officials reportedly felt that since no progress was being made, they should strike. The TWU local said it would honor the picket lines.

Merritt H. Taylor Jr., president of Red Arrow, said Thursday night the union rejected what he called the company's final offer, a 7-cent raise next January and

JFK SCOTCHES REPORTS RUSK TO QUIT POST

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has dealt a blow to speculations just getting under way here that Dean Rusk is on his way out as secretary of state. "I have the highest confidence in him," Kennedy told a news conference Thursday.

There is some reason to believe that Kennedy would like Rusk to take a more active public lead in the development of foreign policy in the country. Some of Rusk's associates think that he should occasionally be more active behind the scenes. But Kennedy said that actually he and Rusk are agreed on the basic roles which the secretary of state should play.

"MAIN ADVISER"

Chiefly, these are that Rusk should be Kennedy's main adviser on all matters of foreign policy, should run the State Department, should direct the day-to-day diplomacy of the United States, and should advise the President on "larger policies affecting our security."

One of the great issues in every administration since World War II has been the relationship between the secretary of state and the secretary of defense. Almost without exception during the past 17 years, the dominant cabinet officer has been the secretary of state. In the Kennedy administration the bold and clear cut figure is that of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

WORKS BEHIND SCENES

Actually Rusk has by his own preference worked behind the scenes. To an unprecedented degree for a man in his position he has sought anonymity.

He has felt, according to close associates, that his effectiveness behind the scenes, in bringing issues into focus for presidential decision, required him to avoid public controversy, hard stands on disputed positions, when he could. In order to concentrate on some jobs he has delegated others and this has recently led to criticism.

Last week Rusk did not, aides say, pass upon the statement on Canadian defense policy which triggered the political crisis for Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker. The Diefenbaker government was toppled Tuesday night.

SOME CRITICISM

There was considerable astonishment around Washington that neither Kennedy nor Rusk had in fact cleared the statement which was unusually blunt. Some criticism in the corridors was directed toward Rusk for not having policy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"On my honor, I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country," begins one of the world's most famous oaths.

"To help other people at all times," it concludes, "to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

That pledge—and the motto "Be Prepared"—have helped guide the lives of 36 million Boy Scouts and their leaders since the founding of the famous youth organization in this country 53 years ago.

This is National Boy Scout Week, and it is being celebrated by an active membership of around 5,250,000 scouts and their adult leaders.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Here are some items of interest about the movement:

Nine members of President Kennedy's Cabinet were Boy Scouts, and so was Kennedy. So were 21 of the 27 Rhodes Scholars named in 1962, 75 per cent of the freshman class at West Point, and every one of the new crop of U.S. astronauts selected last year.

Scouting is carried on in 141 countries, colonies and protectorates throughout the world. One out of every four American men has been associated with the program either as a Scout or as a leader.

In America today there are 135,000 troops sponsored by PTA's, American Legion posts, Red Cross chapters, churches, and civic organizations. There are more than 1½ million adult volunteers, and the biggest problem of the movement is to find enough qualified men to lead the growing number of troops. The task takes time, experience, dedication and an understanding of and sympathy for youth.

SOME EAGLE SCOUTS

Nearly 1.5 per cent of all Boy Scouts go on to become Eagle Scouts, who must win 21 merit badges.

Although scouting stresses physical fitness, it doesn't overlook the handicapped. There are more than 40,000 blind Scouts, and the Boy Scout Handbook is available in Braille for their benefit.

A unique group is Troop 889 of Hondo, Cal. Its 26 boys have no canoes or camping equipment. They can't swim, camp or hike. They memorize the information they need to win merit badges. They learn knot-tying yet don't see the knots they tie.

The boys of Troop 889 rarely get outdoors, and when they do many people have to accompany them. Just ordinary Boy Scouts with perhaps a little more fortitude and ambition, all are hospitalized and confined to iron lungs. All have polio.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

If you want to impress your boss, give him success talk.

Most executives have an emotional need to look through rose-colored glasses. They are less likely to promote a chronic fault finder, no matter how talented, than a subordinate who habitually emphasizes the hopeful aspects of a bad situation.

WORST CABBIES

It's the office cheerleader who is most likely to get ahead in a business—that is, as long as the business lasts.

No man is going to have a happy marriage for long if he finds it necessary to run next door more than once a week to borrow ice cubes from his neighbor's pretty wife.

The world's best cabbies are in London because, before they get behind the wheel, they spend arduous months on a bicycle learning every street in that sprawling city. Some of the worst taxi drivers are probably in Manhattan. To them everything north of Yankee Stadium or east of the Brooklyn Bridge (except for the airports) is a howling wilderness.

HENPECKED HAZARD

To me one of the most depressing signs of the decline in the value of money is the fact that many people today, if they drop a penny, no longer bother to pick it up. I made 12 cents last year rescuing lost pennies that strangers didn't retrieve.

A henpecked husband is more likely to get in an auto accident when driving alone than when his wife is in the car. He is unused to depending on his own judgment in a traffic crisis.

Driver Uninjured In Chaotic Crash

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Eddy Roy Alston, 73, was driving in a residential area in Lawton when:

His car collided with another auto at an intersection, veered into a truck coming from the opposite direction, jumped the curb and ruined two lawns, bounced back into the street, hopped the curb again, flattened fences in front of three homes, crashed into a parked car, bowled over a fire plug which spewed water curb deep, knocked down a street marker and smashed into another fence before halting. No one was injured.

Sightless Scouts Use Taped Sessions

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. Robert M. Lacy, a research engineer, did his good turn for blind Boy Scouts.

He made seven recordings which supply the information a Scout needs to work for higher ratings. The discs are distributed to the sightless through national Scout headquarters.

GRUMBLERS ARE SICK

A man who never complains about his losses at a race track is often acclaimed as a good sport. But anyone who regularly loses more money than he can afford to bet on horses is actually a masochist. He enjoys self-punishment. Most gamblers are as sick as alcoholics.

You can take three years off your life expectancy for every inch your waist is bigger around than your chest.

Few losing politicians ever believe they were defeated by an enemy who was a better man. They secretly feel it was their friends who let them down by not doing enough.

74.5% vote Valiant best in nationwide consumer survey

"Like to test-drive the 1963 compacts?" That's what Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute—a completely independent company—recently asked 3600 typical drivers in 18 cities across the country.

The people were asked to test-drive two compacts. Some picked Corvair and Valiant. Some picked Falcon and Valiant. Some wanted to try Rambler or Chevy II. The course included all kinds of normal driving.

Drivers circled the course twice (once in each car) with N.C.T.I.'s trained interviewers firing questions all the way. Which of these cars do you prefer for acceleration? Ride? Steering? Styling? Finally: which is the best all-around value?

The surprising results:

Compact preference	Rambler	Valiant	Chevy II	Valiant	Corvair	Valiant	Falcon	Valiant	Average four compacts	Valiant
Interior styling	25%	75%	30%	70%	27%	73%	44%	56%	33%	67%
Exterior styling	24	76	48	52	39	61	41	59	38	62

Passing power	17	83	45	55	21	79	24	76	27	73

BEST ALL-AROUND VALUE	17	83	34	66	24	76	27	73	25.5	74.5%

Two things were not tested—price and warranty. But remember that Valiant is just about the lowest-priced car made in the U.S.A. today. And that Valiant carries America's longest and best new-car warranty—5 years or 50,000 miles.* Ask your Plymouth-Valiant Dealer for your own independent test drive in The New Valiant.

* Your Authorized Plymouth-Valiant Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers); rear axle and differential; and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedules.

Best all-around compact anybody has come up with yet...VALIANT!

In Dallas, 74% voted Valiant best value.

In Syracuse, 78% voted Valiant best value.

GOD'S GRACES GIVE STRENGTH TO DAILY LIFE

BLESSINGS NOT IN VAIN

REV. JOHN S. BISHOP,
Associate Pastor, St. James Church, Gettysburg

In the 15th chapter of First Corinthians Saint Paul acknowledges his indebtedness to good influences in this way: "By the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace toward me was not in vain." This grace is not only everything that God has done for us and given to us but also all the people and the influences which have contributed to making us what we are.

It is not a mere accident that any of us are Christians. God put a lot of factors to work for our benefit: Christian homes, Christian parents, Christian friends, Christian pastors and teachers, and certainly not the least — the gospel itself. Every one of these factors has been at work in our lives. We call them graces because we had nothing to do with them. They were given to us as a gift. What we are today is the result of our response to these graces. As someone said, "A man is the sum total of his reactions to the things which have impinged upon him, but not the sum total of the things alone." But thank God for them. We would not be what we are without their influence.

CHRISTIAN LIFE

The first grace in our lives was a Christian home. That's where we began. If you grew up in a Christian home, you began life with a distinct advantage. Some people squander the spiritual stamina of their family heritage. They coast along on what they received from their parents and they are creating nothing to pass along to their children. Like the young fellow who came to a minister to be married, they keep some traditions for mere sentiment. This couple came to that particular church to be married because their parents had been married there. But where were the parents now? Well, they just didn't bother going to church. In the course of the conversation they told how they had grandfather's high silk hat, the one in which he had been married, neatly tucked away in tissue paper. They had done the same with grandfather's religion. Was this grace bestowed in vain?

Another grace in our lives is the influence of Christian friends. This grace comes in two ways, first through the influence of our associates the effect of friend upon friend, neighbor upon neighbor; but also from the impact of a Christian community.

SEE RESULTS
You cannot measure spiritual and moral factors with a tape measure. You see only the quality of the community as the result of Christians living in it. We have enjoyed this advantage so long that we do not always appreciate it. During their student days a certain engineering student became friendly with a young man who was training for his Christian ministry. When they parted at the end of their collegiate days, the engineering student boasted that he was going to a place where there was no church. In a few months he wrote to his friend and said, "This is terrible. Please come out and start a church. I never realized what it would be like to live in a place where there was no church." The presence of Christians in a community does make a difference.

There is one more grace that should be mentioned — the impact of Christian teachers and pastors. Most of us remember a Sunday church school teacher in our youthful lives. Maybe we do not realize the full extent of his or her influence in our lives, but we do remember that person as one of the factors helping to mold our lives. If you are such a teacher, never underestimate the opportunity God has put in your hands. He may be using you to change the whole course of a person's life.

INNER COMPULSION
The same is true of the pastors who minister to us. Whatever we may think of them, good or bad, there is something profound underlying the Christian ministry. Many of us would not be in it if this were not true. And like the prophets of old sometimes we are tempted to run away from the awful responsibility. And like some of you we are tempted to sit back and let someone else assume the responsibility. But there is a little matter of conscience and convictions which will not let us yield to such temptations. There is an inner compulsion which will not let us go.

From the beginning Christian leaders wrestled with the hazard of waning interest. They were always cautioning their disciples to maintain the spiritual glow and to hold fast to the things they had been taught. There is just a trace of disappointment in this passage about grace not being given in vain. When is it not bestowed in vain? When we believe it and live it in our daily lives. Everything hinges on the Gospel we have received. Without it there would be no Christian homes, no Christian friends, no Christian pastors, and no Christian communities in which to live.

Then develop that power by going to church regularly. Find there a faith that grows and gives courage. And pray, for "Whatsoever you shall ask in My name, believing, you shall receive."

Peace of mind and rest come, not through pills, but through power found in trusting God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fantastic? ... Listen!

Last year in the United States one million pounds of sleeping tablets were manufactured.

Each night American people swallowed 12 million doses.

Each night the nervous tensions of millions of people were relaxed artificially and temporarily. No worry was banished; no fear disappeared. No problem came nearer to solution because of a pill ... and sleep. Troubles were merely postponed.

Peace of mind and rest come, not through pills, but through power found in trusting God.

Then develop that power by going to church regularly. Find there a faith that grows and gives courage. And pray, for "Whatsoever you shall ask in My name, believing, you shall receive."

U.S. PLANS NEW 'UNDERGROUND' HEADQUARTERS

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon proposes to start building a second deeply buried underground emergency headquarters as part of its system of fixed and mobile headquarters to be used in riding out a nuclear attack.

The present cavern command post near Ft. Ritchie in northwestern Maryland probably will be continued as is. But another alternate post, presumably even more extensively equipped with communications facilities, will be built at a still undisclosed location.

The military uses what it calls "redundancy" in some systems, both weapons and command. This means deliberate duplication of facilities so that if one is lost under attack another takes over operation.

TO START SOON

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said during recent congressional testimony that construction of the new "deep underground support center" will be started during the fiscal year beginning July 1. He gave no estimate of cost in the published portion of his testimony.

The existing Maryland facility cost about $40 million. However, construction began almost a decade ago and cost of a second such post may be greater.

McNamara told the House Armed Services Committee a year ago that the Pentagon was studying a proposal to build a new under-

ALTERNATE POINTS

There are several alternate control points in the United States. The location of all has not been made public.

In addition, there are the more recently inaugurated systems of flying and submarine headquarters to which top government leaders and military commanders could go if sufficient warning of attack were received.

In his recent testimony, McNamara said:

"The airborne command post and relay aircraft should be able to survive the initial attack and their ability to communicate with elements of the strategic forces is good. However, they have limited unrefueled endurance and it is possible that tankers may not be available to keep them airborne. Moreover, there are limits to the number of personnel which could be carried and the amount of detailed replanning that could be accomplished in an airplane.

"The deep underground support center, on the other hand, would have long endurance in a post-attack environment and would provide adequate space for the necessary personnel, communications, computer equipment, etc. It is not a substitute for the air borne element, however. A combination of both ... is required."

Many of our soybean varieties came from the Orient. More than 10,000 varieties have been shipped to the United States for testing and evaluating.

COLLAPSE OF SKYBOLT SENDS 183 TO BRITAIN

By WALTER JOHNSON
 EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—"We made a home here, then Skybolt failed us. Now we have to leave, and leave our new friends."

That was the comment of Royal Air Force Sgt. Albert Lamb as he and 182 other Britons prepared to pack up and head for new duty stations in Great Britain and elsewhere.

Thirteen officers and 48 airmen began arriving here last May to undergo training in using the Skybolt missile system. They brought along 122 dependents and set up a trailer park home named Powokti Village.

DROPPED FOR POLARIS

The Skybolt was the air-to-ground missile designed to deliver a nuclear warhead 1,000 miles ahead of a bomber. It was aimed at extending the life of the manned bomber into the missile age.

The program was dropped after various failures in its test stages. Now Polaris submarines will do the job.

Just a year ago the land that is now Powokti Village was a jungle. Trailers were brought in, furnished with running water, electricity and telephones. More had been planned for 55 families who never did make the trip.

In little more than a month, the village will begin to break up. Members of the group will return to England and tell of their adventures in the "colonies."

BIG DISAPPOINTMENT
 For most, it was their first day-in, day-out contact with Americans and there were about as many reactions to their Yankee neighbors as there were Britons.

With typical British candor they considered Americans confusing but tremendously friendly; they thought Americans went out of their way to be polite. Some felt their manners were terrible.

And what of Skybolt?
 "Disappointed" was the unanimous reaction to the fate of the program.

DIET THEORIES. A reducer writes: My friends are full of advice on how to lose weight—my weight. Some say that it is easier to diet, if you divide your calories among six small meals a day. Others contend that you lose quicker on two meals. What do you think?

The Answer: Most people are accustomed to three meals a day. Most dieters, therefore, are happier when they follow the familiar pattern.

Studies show that a medically supervised diet of six very small meals during the day can be a painless and effective regimen. But it is no do-it-yourself proposition, for it apt to lead into snacking. And as everybody knows, the snacking habit is among the serious causes of overweight.

Now to analyze the two-meal idea: Do you think that a woman would grow weighty if she could be satisfied with three meals and a normal calorie count? Emphatically no! How then could she expect to control her appetite were she to cut her calorie intake and forego a meal? Should she try, she'd be miserable and probably a dieting failure.

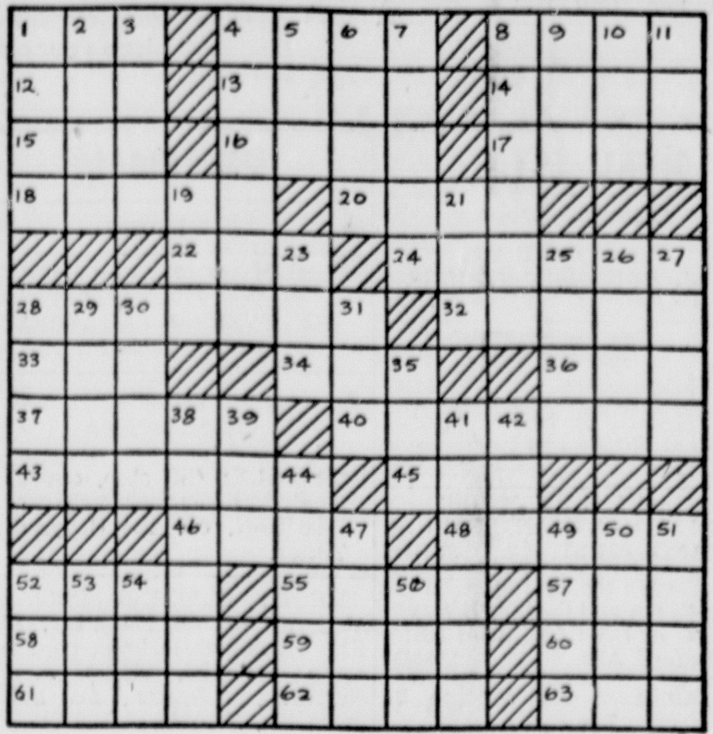

You are more likely to lose without blues "when you divide your calorie allotment into three near-equal parts—allow 300 for breakfast, 400 for luncheon and 500 for dinner. The system wards off hunger and sustains energy. Both reactions boost your determination. Another plus is the opportunity for companionship that regular mealtimes offer. A dieter's portion seems like a feast, when it is partaken in good company.

LOSE WITHOUT BLUES
 Weep no more about excess weight! You can lose without hunger pangs, fatigue and flabby aftermaths. Just send for "Lose Without Blues," a 16-page booklet that gives delicious menus, easy spot-reducing exercises, dieting tricks, your model weight and how to maintain it. Auditors File Reports Here

Cumberland Township's approximately 1,600 taxpayers turned over $244,511.05 to Tax Collector Grover D. Yingling, Gettysburg R. 1, during 1962 according to the annual report filed in the office of the county clerk of courts.

Yingling received $19,254.12 for the township, $37,030.84 for the county and $188,226.09 for the school board from the 1,035 persons who paid taxes on real estate and the 1,580 listed for per capita taxes.

The School Board levied a per capita tax of $5, a 15 per cent occupation tax, a 35-mill tax for general purposes and a 20-mill tax for debt purposes.

The five-mill levy for the township brought in $12,145.73 while the per capita tax provided $7,067.45. The school board obtained $140,575.73 from real estate and $7,068.15 on its per capita tax. The 15 per cent occupation tax provided the school board with $40,083.79. The county received $36,916.39 from the various taxes it levied. In addition the county received $114.45 levied as penalties for late payment while the school board obtained $498.92 from late payment penalties and the township $41.44.

At the same time township residents saved themselves $2,850.15 by paying taxes in advance of the due date to secure the discount allowed for early payment.

The collection was made at a cost of $7,436.50 of which $6,799.70 represented the commissions of the tax collector.

Two McSherrystown Accidents On Ice

McSherrystown police Wednesday investigated two traffic accidents blamed on icy road conditions. No one was injured in either mishap.

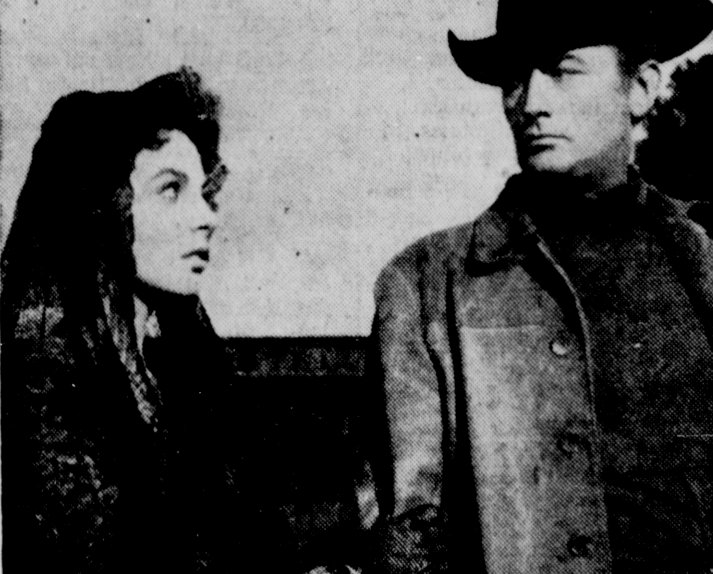

A station wagon operated by James L. Quickel, New Oxford R. 2, was damaged to the extent of $800 when it spun around on ice-coated Oxford Rd. and smashed into a utility pole at 8:05 p.m., police said.

Automobiles operated by Gladys E. King, Alexandria, Va., and Robert J. Murren, 27 Second St., McSherrystown, were involved in a rear-end collision at North and Fifth Sts. at 8:45 a.m. Police said the Murren car, traveling on North St., skidded on ice and struck the rear of the King auto which was moving on Fifth St. The King car, part of a funeral procession, was damaged to the extent of $175. The Murren auto was only slightly damaged, police reported.

IKE TO BE ON TV MONDAY NIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It's a long distance between "Peter Pan" and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, but television will swing from one to the other with the greatest of ease during the next few days.

NBC's annual repeat of the Mary Martin classic for children will be seen Saturday night (7-9 EST). Eisenhower will be on NBC's special program of Monday, eve of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, speaking of the Civil War president as the North's commander-in-chief. The program was made at Gettysburg (9:30-10).

OTHER PROGRAMS

CBS' special program of the week, on Wednesday (7:30-8:30), is "A Dickens Chronicle," in which actors in the Broadway musical, "Oliver" will dramatize the novelist's life and writings. Tonight, Joan Fontaine and Gary Merrill co-star in "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour" suspense tale, "Salt of the Earth" (9:30-10:30).

"Two Faces of Treason" is the spy thriller to be seen Sunday night on NBC's "Show of the Week" (10-11). It stars Larry Blyden, Lloyd Nolan, James Daly and Martha Scott.

Sid Caesar will be seen in another of his short specials.
